BUSINESS NOTICE.

THE PARTNERSHIP heretofore existing between the undersigned, in the Newspaper and Printing business, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. The business of the Milwaukee Sentinel establishment, in all its branches, will be carried on by T. D. JERMAIN and HORACE H. BRIGHTMAN, under the name and style of JERMAIN and BRIGHTMAN. The editorial management of the paper will continue in charge of ROYUS KING. All debts due the late firm of KING, JERMAIN & Co., are to be paid to JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN, by whom all accounts against the firm of KING, JERMAIN & Co. will be settled.

The News.

We have some further details, this morning, of the news by the Canada. The attempt on the life of the French Emperor reminds one of the "infernal machine" which so nearly proved fatal to Napoleon Bonaparte. The intelligence from India indicates a long and bloody fight, before order is restored. The speech of the Queen of Spain does not look like war with Mexico.

The Revolution in Mexico is in full blast, and the Capital itself has become the battle-field of the contending factions. The chances seem to be that Comonfort will be defeated, and Santa Anna once more recalled.

Col. Cook's account of the Utah expedition, which we publish this morning, will be found interesting. The troops have endured the hardships and privations, to which they were exposed, with veteran fortitude.

Another dreadful explosion, involving heavy loss of life and property, has occurred on our Western Rivers.

Lynch law is in full vogue in Indiana; counterfeiters and horse-thieves, receiving especial attention from the self-constituted authorities.

The news from Congress and our State Legislature, yesterday, was of but little moment. The Kansas question is fast coming to a head, however, and some decisive action may be speedily expected. The Administration, it appears, is determined to force the Lecompton Swindle down the throats of the People of Kansas; and the People of Kansas are just as determined that they will not swallow it. The Democratic majority in the Senate was keeping back the Minnesota Admission bill, so as to yoke it with Kansas.

The weather, yesterday, was cooler than for a week past; but still mild for the season. The markets, East and West, show no material change.

NEW YORK ASSEMBLY ORGANIZED.—After wasting nearly four weeks of the session, the Assembly was organized last evening by the election of Thomas G. Alford, Democrat, Speaker, and Daniel L. Wilson, K. N. Clerk, the Know Nothings fusing with the Lecomptonites. This is as it should be. We reserve comment for the future.—Buffalo Express.

The Buffalo Commercial [K. N.] says that the organization was "the result of an open coalition between two great (!) political parties"—the Know-Nothings and Democrats meaning—and that "the subordinate offices" were "fairly distributed" between the two. A "coalition" between proscriptive Know Nothings and bogus Democrats is so much a matter of course, that we wonder it took so long to bring it about.

A COMPLIMENT FOR THE SPEAKER.—The Fond du Lac Union, a Democratic paper, pays the following merited eo mplimont to the Speaker of the Assembly:

The Republican members of the Assembly were fortunate in selecting the Hon. F. S. Lovell, of Kenosha, as their Speaker. Mr. Lovell is well versed in parliamentary law, a man of decision of character, and an honorable and impartial gentleman.

OUR HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.—The Janesville Gazette, after copying a statement of the cost of our new Harbor at the "Straight Cut," very justly remarks:

The general government should pay for the whole of this improvement. It is not only an advantage to Milwaukee and Wisconsin, but to all the States whose vessels carry freights upon the lakes. It seems to us that a claim so just could not be rejected by congress; at any rate we hope our senators and representatives will present the matter in a proper light to the national legislature, and we shall then see if a necessary work which is truly national, must be constructed at the expense of the citizens of a single city.

THURSDAY, Jan. 28, '58.

Nicholas Hoffman et. al. pltf. in error, vs. Lyman Elmore deft. in error. Argued by Lyman for pltf. in error, and Emmons for defts. in error.

Thomas F. Reeve et. al. resp. vs. Lewis L. Lee et. al. app. Submitted on printed case and briefs.

Ernest Preiger et. al. app. vs. Exchange Mutual Ins. Co., res. Argued by H. L. Palmer for app'ts. and Butler for res. Not concluded.—Madison Journal.

Foreign Items.

According to a Belgian paper, the funded property of the house of Rothschild, of Paris amounts to forty millions sterling.

The bakers of Paris made a New Year's present to the poor, of 600,000 pounds of bread, in place of the presents they have formerly made the cooks of their customers.

The weather in England continues as remarkably mild as on this side. Vegetation, in some parts of the country is in as forward a state as it usually is in April. There are gardens in the vicinity of the metropolis where summer roses are in full bloom.

From Teheran we learn that a royal order has just been issued prohibiting the entry into Persia of the shawls of Cashmere. The Governors of Meched and Kirman have received instructions to use all their efforts in developing the ancient native manufacture of shawls, and in seeking to improve the fineness and quality of the fabrics.

The nuns of Pau, who have earned a world-wide fame for their success in embroidery, have received instructions to furnish a large quantity of handkerchiefs, embroidered with the names of the various members of the royal family, intended as presents for the wives and daughters of certain diplomatic personages expected to arrive in England on the occasion of the approaching happy marriage.

From Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 26.

The Kansas correspondent of the Democrat says that the Territorial Legislature has decided not to give way to the Topeka Government, but to proceed to the enactment of an entire code of laws, to supercede all laws passed prior to the special session.

A protest to Congress against the Constitution is also published.

Col. Clark, with the Lecompton Constitution, left here this morning for Washington.

Calhoun, Lecompte and Pate will probably reach here to-day.

CITY MISSIONS.—Reverend Mr. PEEBLES, on Tamarack street, next to the corner of West Water. Services, in German, at half past 10 A. M. to-morrow.

Rev. Mr. HARRISON, residence on Van Buren street fourth door east of Michigan.

No eye but sees the deed be saw
The grating cell-bolts slowly draw;
Barbing the vengeance of the law!

The felon stood at Murder's throne,
He felt that Murder claimed its own!
—He never again was left alone;

For constantly that spectre said
"Hanged by the neck till you be dead!"
Until his brain seemed crowned with lead.

And constantly fresh blood was shed
Beneath his fantasy, living dead—
Waking—or dreaming in his bed!

Unholy by day or night he plead;
Above the jailor's sentry-tread
Still came the words of legal dread.

The very fare wherein he fed,
Even the water and the bread,
Sickened him with dye of red.

To eye and ear came never peace,
For did the spectral vengeance cease
Till the grim scaffold gave release!

Ever for souls by crime perplexed,
Remorse will find some spotted text,
Either in this world or the next.

A FRENCH WILL STORY.

"Is she dead, then?"

"Yes, madam," replied a little gentleman in own coat and short breeches.

"And her will?"

"Is going to be opened here immediately by r solicitor."

"Shall we inherit anything?"

"It must be supposed so; we have claims."

"Who is that miserably dressed personage who trudes herself here?"

"Oh, she," said the little man, sneering—"she n't have much in the will: she is sister to the ceased."

"What, that Anne who wedded in 1812 a man nothing—an officer."

"Precisely so."

"She must have no small amount of impudence present herself here, before a respectable mily."

"The more so as Sister Egerie, of noble birth, d never forgiven her that mesalliance."

Anne moved at this time across the room in ich the family of the deceased were assembled. was pale; her fine eyes were filled with irs, and her face was furrowed by care with ecious wrinkles.

"What do you come here for?" said, with put Naughtiness, Madame de Villeboys, the who, a moment before, had been interrogat- the little man who inherited with her.

"Madam," the poor lady replied, with humili- "I do not come here to claim a part of what es not belong to me; I come solely to see M. bois, my poor sister's solicitor, to inquire if spoke of me at her last hour."

"What! do you think people busy themselves out you?" arrogantly observed Madame de Villeboys; "the disgrace of a great house—you, ho wedded a man of nothing, a soldier of Bonarte's!"

"Madam, my husband, although a child of the people, was a brave soldier, and, what is better, honest man," observed Anne.

At this moment a venerable personage, the notary Dubois, made his appearance.

"Cease," he said, "to reproach Anne with a

To the Public.

In the Sentinel of Thursday morning, the 28th inst., is published the "Report of the Committee appointed at a meeting of the tax-payers of the City of Milwaukee," in which it is asserted that I "had a partner in business," &c., &c.; and then goes on to insinuate and charge corruption and fraud upon me in the discharge of my official duty.

As I have not time, at present, to reply to each specific charge or insinuation, I desire to state that I never had a partner in business, either in Milwaukee or elsewhere, and that every charge or insinuation against me in that Report, as having any interest in any contract with the city, or receiving any compensation from any Contractor, Railroad Company, or individual, to obtain any action for or against any proposition in the Common Council, is unmitigatedly false. If I had been permitted to speak at the meeting at which that Report was read, I confidently believe that I could have convinced every candid and unprejudiced mind there present, that the statements and insinuations reflecting, directly or indirectly, upon me in that Report, are unqualifiedly false.

J. HADLEY.

MILWAUKEE, January 29th, '58.

DEATH OF COL. C. A. JONES.—We regret to learn that Col. C. A. JONES, the contractor for the Custom House and P. O. Building in this city, died at Rochester, on Monday last, 25th instant, in the 51st year of his age. The Albany Evening Journal says that his death was induced by disease contracted at the National Hotel, in Washington, last winter; thus adding another to the long list of victims by that mysterious epidemic. Col. JONES had been actively engaged, during the past 15 years, in Government contracts, and the beautiful building erected under his eye and superintendence, in this city, is an appropriate monument to his fidelity and skill. The U. S. flag was displayed at half-mast yesterday, from the Custom House, as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased.

FARM MORTGAGES ON THE M. & H. RAIL ROAD.—The Berlin Courant says that farmers and others, in that vicinity, who mortgaged their farms and other real estate to the Milwaukee and Horicon R. R. Company, in aid of the road, have been called upon, by the holders of the mortgages, to pay the semi-annual interest, due on the latinst., the Company having failed to provide for the same, as they had contracted to do.—There is much feeling against the Company in consequence.

THE ALBANY.—In our notice of Mitchell's new and substantial block, on Michigan street, we spoke of the builder, Mr. ALLEN, as being also the contractor for "The Albany." A note from GEORGE SOUTHWELL, Jr., apprises us that he was the contractor for the Carpenter work, Painting, and Glazing, and Slate Roofing of "The Albany." We give him credit accordingly.

ATTENTION COMPANY B.—M. L. G.—You are hereby ordered to appear at the Armory this (Saturday) evening, at 8 o'clock. By order,

H. L. HINSDALE, Orderly.

PROMPT PAYMENT OF AN INSURANCE.—On the morning of the 25th of this month, my stock of goods were nearly all destroyed by fire, and were insured in the Peoria Marine and Fire Insurance Company. Mr. J. W. Crain, the agent of said company, settled the loss to my entire satisfaction, without requiring proofs of loss, and paid the cash amounting to $800, without asking the 60 days, as required by the policy. I would cheerfully recommend said company to my friends, who are wanting fire insurance.

JAMES PORTER.

MILWAUKEE, January 29, 1858.

ROBBERY AT A PUBLIC HOUSE.—Henry Jones, a butcher of this city, was robbed of $16,00 during Wednesday night, while asleep in his bed at the "Fountain House," in the Fourth Ward. The money was taken from the pocket of his pantaloons, which hung near the head of the bed.—Two other men slept in the room, but no one heard the robber.

BEEF, PORK, ETC.—Even in the hardest times people must live, and it is to their advantage during such times, to purchase the necessaries of life on the most economical terms. With this simple preface, as James would say, we refer our readers to the advertisement of E. RODDIS in our columns this morning.

MARINE.—The schooner Henry Norton left this port yesterday for Oak Creek, where she will take in a load of cord wood for Chicago, and return to this city with a cargo of whatever she may be able to procure.

BADGER STATE PARTIES.—The first of these parties came off at Stamm's Hall, in the 5th Ward, last night, and was decidedly a pleasant affair.—There was a good ly number of guests present, all of whom seemed to be as merry as they well could be. The dancing closed at a reasonable hour, and no doubt, those who attended do not feel the worse for it to-day. The "Badger State Parties," are conducted very similarly to the "Old American Parties," at Concert Hall. They are select, and the number of guests limited.

ENGLISH AND FRENCH DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL.—We call attention to the advertisement of Madame SEIBERT's School, in this morning's Sentinel. We desire to repeat, what we have heretofore said of it: that it is a very well conducted school, and that parents, or guardians, who can trust their children to Madame SEIBERT's care, may rely upon the trust being faithfully and intelligently discharged.

RUNAWAY.—A horse attached to the delivery wagon of Masterson & Pierce, ran away on Main street, yesterday, smashing the wagon and doing considerable damage to the boxes along the side of the street. Near the corner of Oneida street the wagon came in contact with a small tree, and jerked it up by the roots. The horse soon broke loose from the wagon and went off on his own account. We believe there was nobody hurt.

VESSEL SALES.—The schooner Preble was sold Thursday, on execution, to G. D. Norris, for $600; and the brig S. F. Gale, yesterday, to R. P. Cady, for $1,005. Both vessels are old, but sold cheap; as everything does that is brought to the hammer in these times.

MERCHANTS' MUTUAL.—At the election, yesterday, for five Directors of the Merchants Mutual (to serve four years) Messrs. H. H. Harrison, G. D. Norris, Lyndsey Ward, John Nazro and John S. Harris, were duly chosen. The annual election of Officers takes place this evening.

POLICE COURT.—In the Police Court yesterday, Abraham Lang was fined $10 and costs, for being disorderly; John Carroll and David McGrane, were fined $2 each, also for being disorderly. Owen McCuen, charged with being disorderly, discharged.

☞ SEAMLESS GARMENTS.—Dear Reader:—Did you ever hear of anything more wonderful than the seamless garments?

Over-Coats, Business Coats, Vests, Pants, Ladies' and Gent's Leggins, Gauntlets, Bootees, House Slippers, &c., all made.

Wonderful
And light;
Durable
And tight.

These Garments are sold cheap for cash, by the Co.'s duly authorized agent, at No. 227 East Water street.

Neighbors into their store step,
Ladies into their office trip,
Farmers into their store slip,
And buy garments that ne'er will rip.

P. S.—This is all true, and allow me to suggest that you call soon, before the valuable stock now on hand is sold. CASSIUS.

Hamilton City Town and Land Company.

A. B. PAUL, one of the proprietors, is now in this city for the purpose of securing machinery for mills, &c. All persons contemplating moving West early in the coming season, are cordially invited to call and examine our plans, maps, &c., at the American House. A good opportunity is also offered to mechanics and tradesmen of all kinds, to secure—"oven with limited means"—good homes in one of the richest valleys of the Northwest.

See pamphlet containing sketch, &c., of country adjacent, and plan of the proprietors in building up an important point on the Sioux River, Iowa. We want actual settlers. Call and see us and talk the matter over. dec230dtf

☞ The most wonderful thing now before the public is Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil, of Philadelphia Nothing before known has cured Palsy, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pains and Soreness of the worst kind in so short a time as to seem almost impossible. Messrs. Barnes and Park, of N. Y., the richest Medicine house in the U. S., write that this Oil has cured Palsy and many other cases. They have sold $1,000 worth in a short time. Mr. Seth S. Hance, of Baltimore, who has sold above $2,000 worth in a very short time, writes of wonderful cures of Palsy, Rheumatism, &c., cases unparalleled. Many other leading Dealers write the same thing. This Oil is magical to relieve pain, compared with other medicines, and cannot be adulterated like Bitters and Syrups, which everybody knows are almost all water. The Electric Oil is made of expensive materials, and is scientifically compounded. Physicians are now using and recommending Dr. Grath's Electric Oil from the only Office. No. 89 South Eighth st., between Chestnut and Walnut, near the great Masonic Temple.—A regular Doctor in attendance. Advice gratis.

☞ For sale by Druggists and Merchants generally throughout the country. Jan26d&w1w

Notice to Western Emigrants.

THERE will be a meeting of those interested in the Town and Land Co., on Saturday evening next, January 30th, at No. 8 Market Square, opposite the Post Office. An opportunity at that time will be offered to Mechanics, and others, who may wish to go to the Plains as actual Settlers, and are not able to take the amount necessary to become a stockholder in the Company to buy one or more lots on reasonable terms. This is a pioneer enterprise, and those who enlist in it now, will have an opportunity of securing good homes in one of the richest valleys of the North-West, at a trifling cost, and on easy terms.

We intend to send Mr. Cummings & Goodrich, of the Badger Iron Works, of this city, here building a steam engine and Boiler for this point. Also that Mr. Paul has contracted for one hundred thousand feet of pine lumber to be delivered in St. Louis by the 20th of June, to be shipped from there to this point by way of Missouri river, and to facilitate in building as early as possible, the coming season. Capitalists seeking investments will do well by calling on Mr. PAUL, at the American, and examining his plans. He will leave in a short time for this point. Thirty five shares in this Company have already been sold, leaving sixty-five yet in the hands of the proprietors. jan27d10d4t

American Securities quiet and steady—Bell & Co. say slightly dearer.

OUR LIVERPOOL TRADE.—We had the pleasure, yesterday, of tasing by the hand Capt. D. G. Reese, of the barque C. J. Kershaw, who went out from this port for Liverpool last summer, and whose good vessel is now in Monmouth. Capt. Pierce informs us that his new vessel being built at Cleveland, for the Liverpool trade, has been launched, and will be ready to take in a cargo as soon as she can get through the canals of the lower St. Lawrence. She is a perfect model of beauty and strength. Two other vessels besides this and the Kershaw will also embark in the Liverpool trade the coming spring, under the direction of Capt. P. and a New York gentleman who is connected with him in the enterprise. Good freights are offered the Kershaw at Montreal, and she will probably discharge her cargo and reload there. One of the remaining three vessels will load with staves at this port, and the other two will load with staves and black walnut lumber at Cleveland and Toledo.—Detroit Adv., Jan. 27.

Statistics of Buffalo.

The Board of Trade of Buffalo have published, in the Courier, a lengthy statement of the trade and commerce of that city for the year 1857. From it we learn that the valuation of taxable property is $37,837,061; the value of buildings about $25,000,000; the valuation of property owned by the corporation $1,065,300; the population of the city about 100,000; the deaths during the year 2,236, or about 1 in 44; value of annual manufactures, $10,000,000; receipts of flour for the year by lake, 542,600 barrels—of wheat, 8,874,000 bushels—of corn 3,824,669 bushels—total receipts of grain and flour reduced to wheat, 20,926,454 bushels, a decrease compared with 1856 of 6,500,000 bushels; total value of imports by lake, $36,918,166; exports $100,000,000; steam tonnage 80,740; sail tonnage 75,000; total tonnage 135,740 new tonnage built at that port during the year 17,016; receipts of stock during the year, 109,298 head cattle, 359,868 hogs, and 147,722 sheep—total 608,888 head, a decrease, compared with 1856 of 10,500; number of banks 9; with a capital of $9,085,911.

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

Thirty-Fifth Congress—First Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

SENATE.—Mr. Foot introduced a proposition, as an amendment to Davis' Pacific Railroad bill, in case that the majority of the select committee shall fail. The amendment adds a claim for a northern route.

Mr. Sidell, from the select committee appointed to consider the banking system of the District of Columbia, reported a bill prohibiting the issue of bank notes, and to prevent bank notes of any denomination less than $50 being issued within the District, by corporations located beyond its limits. The bill was made the special order for the 2d Tuesday in February.

The bill to increasing the army was taken up, in Mr. Toombs made an earnest and able speech against it.

The special order being the subject of a medal to Com. Paulding was taken up.

Mr. Pearce made a speech justifying Paulding, who had his hearty thanks, and doubtless those of the mass of the country, but he would not vote for a medal, for his service was not of a class which had ought to be made historical.

Mr. Sidell earnestly disapproved of Paulding's acts, and concluded by offering an amendment to the bill, reported by the Committee on Foreign Relations, authorizing the President to suspend the neutrality laws at his discretion, not exceeding twelve months, and in the case the President should do so, to communicate his reasons therefor to Congress.

The subject was postponed to the 9th of February.

The consideration of the army bill was resumed.

Mr. Stuart supported it.

Mr. Fessenden made a speech to show that the Freemen of Kansas were not guilty of treason, and that Senators might oppose the army bill.

Without taking the question, the Senate adjourned till Monday.

EXCITING NEWS FROM MEXICO.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 25th.

By the steamship Tennessee, the Picayune is in receipt of private advices from the City of Mexico to the 18th, being two weeks later than those previously received.

These advices announce the bombardment of the Capitol by the opponents of Comonfort, and a desperate conflict which continued for several days, resulting in the loss of over one hundred lives, and the wounding of a large number more.

The persons who were in possession of the Citadel, and the Convents of San Domingo and San Augustine, were the partizans of Santa Anna, whose recall to the Presidency was loudly demanded.

On the 18th, the day previous to the sailing of the steamer, a truce for twenty-four hours between the opposing forces was agreed to.

At the last moment previous to the departure of the Tennessee, intelligence was received that the coalition were marching upon the city, and hat civil war had already begun.

Steamboat Explosion.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28.

The steamer Fanny Fern from St. Louis, for Pittsburg, with 400 tons of produce; 15 cabin and 20 deck passengers, exploded her boiler at two o'clock this afternoon, 18 miles below this city. Some 15 lives were reported lost, including Captain Woodward, several deck hands and firemen, and three ladies. The boat took fire, burned to the water's edge, and sank.

Clark, Rogers and Dunn were scalded—the former badly and the latter slightly. The Ohio and Mississippi train brought up 30 of the sufferers, 15 of whom were wounded. The pilot, engineers and mate were saved.

The Fanny Fern Disaster.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 29.

The steamer Fanny Fern was owned by W. W. Martin, of Pittsburgh, and was valued at $12,000—insured in three Pittsburgh offices for $9,000. The following are known to have been lost:

Capt. Benj. Woodward, of Newport, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Penn.; Wm. Wilson, an Englishman; James Bixley, Michael Donahue, James Kavanaugh, Thos. Walker, Robert Riddle, Pittsburgh; a widow lady and child unknown; Hannah Thomas, chambermaid, Allegheny City.

Scalded—A. J. Rogers, Pittsburgh, severley; Harry Drum, slightly; John Flynn, Wm. Paul, John W. Kerr, W. Casey, severely.

Several others were more or less scalded and burned.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

The N. Y. Herald correspondence says:—The Lecompton Constitution is expected to-morrow or next day. The President will send it at once to Congress with a special message.

The democratic members of Congress, generally, will act firmly with the Administration, and make for that question a test of party orthodoxy.

A caucus of democrats, supposed to be opposed to the Lecompton Constitution, held a meeting last evening for the purpose of comparing notes. They expect to muster 18 votes in all.

The Republicans have completed their organization, and arranged the programme to defeat the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Blair, of Mo., and Mr. Graw, of Pa., do the heavy work.

The President to-day sent to the Senate the name of Simeon Jewett, of Rochester, as Marshal for the northern District of New York, vice Mott.

Also Mr. A. Hirdsell, (Dickinson's son-in-law) as naval officer for New York, vice Mr. Broadhead.

Secretary of Treasury in response to a resolution of Senator Wilson, has communicated to the Senate a statement, showing the amounts of revenue collected during the 6 years, to June last. The total amount is three hundred and fifty-five and a half million dollars, and the expense of collection was $21,752,000.

Governor Wise, of Virginia, has posponed for the present, his contemplated letter on Kansas, for the perusal of which much anxiety is manifested.

Mr. Douglas in vain tried in the Senate to-day to have the bill for the admission of Minnesota brought up.

The News.

We have some further details, this morning, of the news by the Canada. The attempt on the life of the French Emperor reminds one of the "infernal machine" which so nearly proved fatal to Napoleon Bonaparte. The intelligence from India indicates a long and bloody fight, before order is restored. The speech of the Queen of Spain does not look like war with Mexico.

The Revolution in Mexico is in full blast, and the Capital itself has become the battle-field of the contending factions. The chances seem to be that Comonfort will be defeated, and Santa Anna once more recalled.

Col. Cook's account of the Utah expedition, which we publish this morning, will be found interesting. The troops have endured the hardships and privations, to which they were exposed, with veteran fortitude.

Another dreadful explosion, involving heavy loss of life and property, has occurred on our Western Rivers.

Lynch law is in full vogue in Indiana; counterfeiters and horse-theives, receiving especial attention from the self-constituted authorities.

The news from Congress and our State Legislature, yesterday, was of but little moment. The Kansas question is fast coming to a head, however, and some decisive action may be speedily expected. The Administration, it appears, is determined to force the Lecompton Swindle down the throats of the People of Kansas; and the People of Kansas are just as determined that they will not swallow it. The Democratic majority in the Senate was keeping back the Minnesota Admission bill, so as to yoke it with Kansas.

The weather, yesterday, was cooler than for a week past; but still mild for the season. The markets, East and West, show no material change.

NEW YORK ASSEMBLY ORGANIZED.—After wasting nearly four weeks of the session, the Assembly was organized last evening by the election of Thomas G. Alford, Democrat, Speaker, and Daniel L. Wilson, K. N. Clerk, the Know Nothings having with the Lecomptonites. This is as it should be. We reserve comment for the future.—Buffalo Express.

The Buffalo Commercial [K. N.] says that the organization was "the result of an open coalition between two great (!) political parties"—the Know-Nothings and Democrats meaning—and that "the subordinate offices" were "fairly distributed" between the two. A "coalition" between proscriptive Know Nothings and bogus Democrats is so much a matter of course, that we wonder it took so long to bring it about.

A COMPLIMENT FOR THE SPEAKER.—The Fond du Lac Union, a Democratic paper, pays the following merited compliment to the Speaker of the Assembly:

The Republican members of the Assembly were fortunate in selecting the Hon. F. S. Lovell, of Kenosha, as their Speaker. Mr. Lovell is well versed in parliamentary law, a man of decision of character, and an honorable and impartial gentleman.

OUR HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.—The Janesville Gazette, after copying a statement of the cost of our new Harbor at the "Straight Cut," very justly remarks:

The general government should pay for the whole of this improvement. It is not only an advantage to Milwaukee and Wisconsin, but to all the States whose vessels carry freights upon the lakes. It seems to us that a claim so just could not be rejected by congress; at any rate we hope our senators and representatives will present the matter in a proper light to the national legislature, and we shall then see if a necessary work which is truly national, must be constructed at the expense of the citizens of a single city.

Foreign Items.

According to a Belgian paper, the funded property of the house of Rothschild, of Paris amounts to forty millions sterling.

The bakers of Paris made a New Year's present to the poor, of 800,000 pounds of bread, in place of the presents they have formerly made the cooks of their customers.

The weather in England continues as remarkably mild as on this side. Vegetation, in some parts of the country is in as forward a state as it usually is in April. There are gardens in the vicinity of the metropolis where summer roses are in full bloom.

From Teheran we learn that a royal order has just been issued prohibiting the entry into Persia of the shawls of Cassimere. The Governors of Meshed and Kirman have received instructions to use all their efforts in developing the ancient native manufacture of shawls, and in seeking to improve the fineness and quality of the fabrics.

The nuns of Pau, who have earned a world-wide fame for their success in embroidery, have received instructions to furnish a large quantity of handkerchiefs, embroidered with the names of the various members of the royal family, intended as presents for the wives and daughters of certain diplomatic personages expected to arrive in England on the occasion of the approaching happy marriage.

From Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28.

The Kansas correspondent of the Democrat says that the Territorial Legislature has decided not to give way to the Topeka Government, but to proceed to the enactment of an entire code of laws, to supercede all laws passed prior to the special session.

A protest to Congress against the Constitution is also published.

Col. Clark, with the Lecompton Constitution, left here this morning for Washington.

Calhoun, Lecompte and Pate will probably reach here to-day.

PROMPT PAYMENT OF AN INSURANCE.—On the morning of the 25th of this month, my stock of goods were nearly all destroyed by fire, and were insured in the Peoria Marine and Fire Insurance Company. Mr. J. W. Crain, the agent of said company, settled the loss to my entire satisfaction, without requiring proofs of loss, and paid the cash amounting to $900, without asking the 60 days, as required by the policy. I would cheerfully recommend said company to my friends, who are wanting fire insurance.

JAMES PORTER.

MILWAUKEE, January 29, 1858.

ROBBERY AT A PUBLIC HOUSE.—Henry Jones, a butcher of this city, was robbed of $16,00 during Wednesday night, while asleep in his bed at the "Fountain House," in the Fourth Ward. The money was taken from the pocket of his pantaloons, which hung near the head of the bed.—Two other men slept in the room, but no one heard the robber.

BEEF, PORK, ETC.—Even in the hardest times people must live, and it is to their advantage during such times, to purchase the necessaries of life on the most economical terms. With this simple preface, as James would say, we refer our readers to the advertisement of E. RODDIS in our columns this morning.

MARINE.—The schooner Henry Norton left this port yesterday for Oak Creek, where she will take in a load of cord wood for Chicago, and return to this city with a cargo of whatever she may be able to procure.

BADGER STATE PARTIES.—The first of these parties came off at Stamm's Hall, in the 5th Ward, last night, and was decidedly a pleasant affair.—There was a goodly number of guests present, all of whom seemed to be as merry as they well could be. The dancing closed at a reasonable hour and no doubt, those who attended do not feel the worse for it to-day. The "Badger State Parties," are conducted very similarly to the "Old American Parties," at Concert Hall. They are select, and the number of guests limited.

ENGLISH AND FRENCH DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL.—We call attention to the advertisement of Madame SEIBERT'S School, in this morning's Sentinel. We desire to repeat, what we have heretofore said of it: that it is a very well conducted school, and that parents, or guardians, who can trust their children to Madame SEIBERT'S care, may rely upon the trust being faithfully and intelligently discharged.

RUNAWAY.—A horse attached to the delivery wagon of Masterson & Pierce, ran away on Main street, yesterday, smashing the wagon and doing considerable damage to the boxes along the side of the street. Near the corner of Oneida street the wagon came in contact with a small tree, and jerked it up by the roots. The horse soon broke loose from the wagon and went off on his own account. We believe there was nobody hurt.

VESSEL SALES.—The schooner Pyeble was sold Thursday, on execution, to G. D. Norris, for $600; and the brig S. F. Gale, yesterday, to R. P. Cady, for $1,000. Both vessels are old, but sold cheap; as everything does that is brought to the hammer in these times.

MERCHANTS' MUTUAL.—At the election, yesterday, for five Directors of the Merchants Mutual (to serve four years) Messrs. H. H. Harrison, G. D. Norris, Lyndsey Ward, John Nazro and John S. Harris, were duly chosen. The annual election of Officers takes place this evening.

POLICE COURT.—In the Police Court yesterday, Abraham Lang was fined $10 and costs, for being disorderly; John Carroll and David McGrano, were fined $2 each, also for being disorderly. Owen McOuen, charged with being disorderly, discharged.

☞ SEAMLESS GARMENTS.—Dear Reader :—Did you ever hear of anything more wonderful than the seamless garments?

Over-Coats, Business Coats, Vests, Pants, Ladies' and Gent's Leggins, Gauntlets, Bootees, House Slippers, &c., all made.

Wonderful
And light;
Durable
And tight.

These Garments are sold cheap for cash, by the Co.'s duly authorized agent, at No. 227 East Water street.

Neighbors into their store step,
Ladies into their office trip,
Farmers into their store slip,
And buy garments that ne'er will rip.

P. S.—This is all true, and allow me to suggest that you call soon, before the valuable stock now on hand is sold. CASSIUS.

For the Daily Sentinel.

To the Public.

In the Sentinel of Thursday morning, the 28th inst., is published the "Report of the Committee appointed at a meeting of the tax-payers of the City of Milwaukee," in which it is asserted that I "had a partner in business," &c., &c.; and then goes on to insinuate and charge corruption and fraud upon me in the discharge of my official duty.

As I have not time, at present, to reply to each specific charge or insinuation, I desire to state that I never had a partner in business, either in Milwaukee or elsewhere, and that every charge or insinuation against me in that Report, as having any interest in any contract with the city, or receiving any compensation from any Contractor, Railroad Company, or individual, to obtain any action for or against any proposition in the Common Council, is unmitigatedly false. If I had been permitted to speak at the meeting at which that Report was read, I confidently believe that I could have convinced every candid and unprejudiced mind there present, that the statements and insinuations reflecting, directly or indirectly, upon me in that Report, are unqualifiedly false. J. HADLEY.

MILWAUKEE, January 29th, '58.

DEATH OF COL. C. A. JONES.—We regret to learn that Col. C. A. JONES, the contractor for the Custom House and P. O. Building in this city, died at Rochester, on Monday last, 25th instant, in the 51st year of his age. The Albany Evening Journal says that his death was induced by disease contracted at the National Hotel, in Washington, last winter; thus adding another to the long list of victims by that mysterious epidemic. Col. JONES had been actively engaged, during the past 15 years, in Government contracts, and the beautiful building erected under his eye and superintendence, in this city, is an appropriate monument to his fidelity and skill. The U. S. flag was displayed at half-mast yesterday, from the Custom House, as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased.

FARM MORTGAGES ON THE M. & H. RAIL ROAD.—The Berlin Courant says that farmers and others, in that vicinity, who mortgaged their farms and other real estate to the Milwaukee and Horicon R. R. Company, in aid of the road, have been called upon, by the holders of the mortgages, to pay the semi-annual interest, due on the 1st inst., the Company having failed to provide for the same, as they had contracted to do.—There is much feeling against the Company in consequence.

THE ALBANY.—In our notice of Mitchell's new and substantial block, on Michigan street, we spoke of the builder, Mr. ALLEN, as being also the contractor for "The Albany." A note from GEORGE SOUTHWELL, Jr., apprises us that he was the contractor for the Carpenter work, Painting, and Glazing, and Slate Roofing of "The Albany." We give him credit accordingly.

ATTENTION COMPANY B.—M. L. G.—You are hereby ordered to appear at the Armory this (Saturday) evening, at 8 o'clock. By order,

H. L. HINSDALE, Orderly.

OUR LIVERPOOL TRADE.—We had the pleasure, yesterday, of calling by the hand Capt. D. O. Pierce, of the barque C. F. Kershaw, who went out from this port for Liverpool last summer, and whose good vessel is now in Montreal. Capt. Pierce informs us that his new vessel being built at Cleveland, for the Liverpool trade, has been launched, and will be ready to take in a cargo as soon as she can get through the canals of the lower St. Lawrence. She is a perfect model of beauty and strength. Two other vessels besides this and the Kershaw will also embark in the Liverpool trade the coming spring, under the direction of Capt. P. and a New York gentleman who is connected with him in the enterprise. Good freights are offered the Kershaw at Montreal, and she will probably discharge her cargo and reload there. One of the remaining three vessels will load with staves at this port, and the other two will load with staves and black walnut lumber at Cleveland and Toledo.—Detroit Adv., Jan. 27.

Statistics of Buffalo.

The Board of Trade of Buffalo have published, in the Courier, a lengthy statement of the trade and commerce of that city for the year 1857. From it we learn that the valuation of taxable property is $37,887,061; the value of buildings about $25,000,000; the valuation of property owned by the corporation $1,085,500; the population of the city about 100,000; the deaths during the year 2,286; or about 1 in 44; value of annual manufactures, $10,000,000; receipts of flour for the year by lake, 842,509 barrels—of wheat 9,374,000 bushels—of corn 5,824,668 bushels—total receipts of grain and flour reduced to wheat, 20,898,324 bushels, a decrease compared with 1856 of 5,900,000 bushels; total value of imports by lake, $36,018,166; exports $100,000,000; steam tonnage 60,740; sail-tonnage 75,000; total tonnage 135,740 new tonnage built at that port during the year 17,610; receipts of stock during the year, 109,298 head cattle, 852,668 hogs, and 147,152 sheep—total 668,898 head; a decrease, compared with 1856 of 10,598; number of banks 9, with a capital of $2,639,911.

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

Thirty-Fifth Congress—First Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

SENATE.—Mr. FOOT introduced a proposition, as an amendment to Davis' Pacific Railroad bill, in case that the majority of the select committee shall fail. The amendment adds a claim for a northern route.

Mr. SLIDELL, from the select committee appointed to consider the banking system of the District of Columbia, reported a bill prohibiting the issue of bank notes, and to prevent bank notes of any denomination less than $50 being issued within the District, by corporations located beyond its limits. The bill was made the special order for the 2d Tuesday in February.

The bill for increasing the army was taken up.

Mr. TOOMBS made an earnest and able speech against it.

The special order being the subject of a medal to Com. Paulding was taken up.

Mr. PEARCE made a speech justifying Paulding, who had his hearty thanks, and doubtless those of the mass of the country, but he would not vote for a medal, for his service was not of a class which had ought to be made historical.

Mr. SLIDELL earnestly disapproved of Paulding's act, and concluded by offering an amendment to the bill, reported by the Committee on Foreign Relations, authorizing the President to suspend the neutrality laws at his discretion, not exceeding twelve months, and in the case the President should do so, to communicate his reasons therefor to Congress.

The subject was postponed to the 9th of February.

The consideration of the army bill was resumed.

Mr. STUART supported it.

Mr. FESSENDEN made a speech to show that the Freemen of Kansas were not guilty of treason, and that Senators might oppose the army bill.

Without taking the question, the Senate adjourned till Monday.

EXCITING NEWS FROM MEXICO.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 25th.

By the steamship Tennessee, the Picayune is in receipt of private advices from the City of Mexico to the 18th, being two weeks later than those previously received:

These advices announce the bombardment of the Capitol by the opponents of Comonfort, and a desperate conflict which continued for several days, resulting in the loss of over one hundred lives, and the wounding of a large number more.

The persons who were in possession of the Citadel, and the Convents of San Domingo and San Augustine, were the partizans of Santa Anna, whose recall to the Presidency was loudly demanded.

On the 18th, the day previous to the sailing of the steamer, a truce for twenty-four hours between the opposing forces was agreed to.

At the last moments previous to the departure of the Tennessee, intelligence was received that the coalition were marching upon the city, and hat civil war had already begun.

Steamboat Explosion.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28.

The steamer Fanny Fern from St. Louis, for Pittsburg, with 400 tons of produce; 15 cabin and 20 deck passengers, exploded her boiler at two o'clock this afternoon, 18 miles below this city. Some 15 lives were reported lost, including Captain Woodward, several deck hands and firemen, and three ladies. The boat took fire, burned to the water's edge, and sank.

Olick, Rogers and Dunn were scalded—the former badly and the latter slightly. The Ohio and Mississippi train brought up 30 of the sufferers, 15 of whom were wounded. The pilot, engineers and mate were saved.

The Fanny Fern Disaster.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 29.

The steamer Fanny Fern was owned by W. W. Martin, of Pittsburgh, and was valued at $12,000 —insured in three Pittsburgh offices for $9,000. The following are known to have been lost:

Capt. Benj. Woodward, of Newport, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Penn.; Wm. Wilson, an Englishman; James Haley, Michael Donahue, James Kavanaugh, Thos. Walker, Robert Riddle, Pittsburgh; a widow lady and child unknown; Hannah Thomas, chambermaid, Allegheny City.

Scalded—A. J. Rogers, Pittsburgh, severley; Harry Drum, slightly; John Flynn, Wm. Paul, John W. Kerr, W. Casey, severely.

Several others were more or less scalded and burned.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

The N. Y. Herald correspondence says:—The Lecompton Constitution is expected to-morrow or next day. The President will send it at once to Congress with a special message.

The democratic members of Congress, generally, will act firmly with the Administration, and make for that question a test of party orthodoxy.

A caucus of democrats, supposed to be opposed to the Lecompton Constitution, held a meeting last evening for the purpose of comparing notes. They expect to muster 18 votes in all.

The Republicans have completed their organization, and arranged the programme to defeat the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. BLAIR, of Mo., and Mr. GRAW, of Pa., go the heavy work.

The President to-day sent to the Senate the name of Simeon Jewett, of Rochester, as Marshal for the northern District of New York, vice Mott.

Also Mr. A. HIRDSALL, (Dickinson's son-in-law) as naval officer for New York, vice Mr. Broadhead.

Secretary of Treasury in response to a resolution of Senator WILSON, has communicated to the Senate a statement, showing the amounts of revenue collected during the 6 years, to June last. The total amount is three hundred and fifty-five and a half million dollars, and the expense of collection was $21,762,000.

Governor Wise, of Virginia, has posponed for the present, his contemplated letter on Kansas, for the perusal of which much anxiety is manifested.

Mr. Douglas in vain tried in the Senate to-day to have the bill for the admission of Minnesota brought up.

Further from the Plains.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.

Lieutenant Crocker, in command of the Atrato surveying expedition, writes to the Department from Camp Toucep, on the Traondo River, under date of the 5th inst., stating that he had arrived at a point within 35 miles of the Pacific and expected to reach the ocean by the middle of this month. He was engaged in discharging his provisions from Bungos, and had sent to Carthagena for new supplies. He complains that the axes furnished by the Bureau of Construction have proved so miserable as to considerably delay the party in cutting their way through the forest.

Lynching at Ligonier, Ind.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 29.

An excited mob at Ligonier, Noble County, Indiana, arrested three counterfeiters on Tuesday and deliberately hanged one. They were proceeding to execute the second, in the same manner, when it was agreed by a majority of six votes of the people present, to let the law take its course. The third, guilty of making bogus coin, was delivered into the hands of the U. S. Marshall, and was brought by him to this city to day, where he will undergo a preliminary examination before a United States Commissioner. He was committed to jail in default of $2,000 bail.

The northern counties of Indiana and southern counties of Michigan, have long been infested with counterfeiters and thieves, and the people have determined to drive them from their midst.

Later from Havana.

CHARLESTON, S. C. Jan. 28.

The steamship Isabel from Havana 26th inst., has arrived here. The steamship Philadelphia, from New York 19th inst., for Havana and New Orleans, and the English mail steamer had not arrived at Havana on the 25th. The steamship Grenada from Aspinwall arrived on the 23rd inst. The Wabash was at Key West, and her officers and men were well. Nineteen of her men whose time had expired, came passengers by the Isabel.

Sugar was unchanged, and molasses declining.

Exchange on London was 16 per cent. premium, and on New York and Boston 3@4 per cent.

Col. Anderson, six of his officers and thirty-nine men, had arrived at Key West, and the court there decided that they should all be held for trial in the district of Louisiana, and in default of bail were held in custody.

Nothing is said about yellow fever in Yanna.

The Cincinnati Gazette estimates that the sum total of values derived from cattle and hogs, either cured, slaughtered, or carried alive from Ohio, amounts in round numbers to twenty millions of dollars.

Wisconsin Legislature.

MADISON, Jan. 29.

SENATE.—Resolutions.—For committee to visit State Prison—passed under suspension of rules; to require necessary legislation to carry out the law for encouragement of Normal School.

Senate recalled bill relative to investigation, and referred to Committee of Judiciary for perfection.

Bills Introduced.—To amend section 5, chapter 155, laws of 1856; to incorporate village of Greenwood, La Pointe Co.; to amend act authorizing Board of Supervisors Milwaukee county to issue bonds.

Adjourned to 2 P. M.

ASSEMBLY.—Petitions—To change the name of Foster institute to Bronson institute; to vacate Ash St., in West Bend.

Resolutions.—That the Legislature memorialize Congress for a grant of land for an agricultural college; for information as to disposition of contingent fund of $10,000, and of appropriation of $9,000 for expenses in quo warranto suit.

Bills Introduced.—In relation to public lands in the city of Fond du Lac; to secure laborers by lien on lumber; to repeal code of procedure; to vacate street in West Bend.

Bills Passed.—For collection of delinquent school tax in the town of Delona, Sauk County; to incorporate Farmers Mutual Insurance Co., of Calumet county; for mail service on route 12,768; to amend the charter of the city of Madison.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, and then adjourned.

From Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28th.

The Senate has passed the joint resolution authorizing the Governor to open a correspondence with the Governors of other States, for the purpose of calling a Convention for the adoption of measures to prohibit notes of less denomination than 5, 10 or 20 dollars. Resolutions have been offered to the Legislature instructing Senators from Pennsylvania to resist the admission of Kansas into the Union until its Constitution has received the unqualified sanction of a majority of the bona fide residents.

They were referred to a special committee amid much confusion.

Further by the Canada.

Particulars of the attempt on the life of Louis Napoleon—Sixty people wounded and five killed.

HALIFAX, Jan. 28.

The Canada called off Cork on the 17th, and brought the mails and 66 passengers of the disabled steamer Ariel. She passed the Persia, bound into Liverpool, on the 16th.

The Ariel, after leaving Cowes, experienced strong westerly gales, which gradually increased till January 6th, when at 9 P. M., in latitude 50, longitude 20, she broke her starboard shaft, just outside the ship. She was hove to under a drag and storm sails, and on the morning of the 7th it was found that her port wheel could be worked. The ship was then put about and moved east at the rate of eight knots an hour. She shipped several tremendous seas and broke her fore yard, when she was again laid to until the morning of the 9th. She succeeded in sighting Cape Clear on the morning of the 14th, and reached Queenstown about noon the next day. A further reduction of the rate of interest by the Bank of England was anticipated in a week or two.

FRANCE.—The attempt upon the Emperor's life was made on the evening of the 14th, on their Majestic's arrival at the Opera House.—Three explosions, coming from below projectiles, were here heard. Sixty persons were wounded and three killed. The Emperor's hat was pierced. His aid de-camp was slightly wounded. Two footmen were also wounded, and one of the horses attached to the carriage was also killed.

Matters in Kansas.

Kansas, with her three Governors, her three Legislatures, and her two Constitutions, has been, for some weeks past, in a most uncertain and unsettled condition. But the recent bold stroke of Regent CALHOUN, by which he undertakes to "certify" the election of the Pro-Slavery, or "National Democratic" State Officers and Legislature, in open and imputent defiance of the popular will, as expressed through the ballot-box, has precipitated matters and promises an early and decisive settlement of the questions at issue.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Commercial, a staid and conservative Journal, thus writes under date of January 25th:

There is more excitement here among public men, at this day, respecting the Kansas sore than there has been yet since the luckless day when Congress invited North and South to enter the lists in that territory for a terrible fight, in which, no matter whether one or the other party succeeded, the Union was to fall with the vanquished.

Southern and Northern members are becoming much excited, and speak pretty strongly. Some of the Southern members are going about declaring that the Union is dissolved, and that further efforts to save it are useless.

The president has exhibited for a week past his full share of the excitement on this question. He is no longer so much troubled as he is angry about it. He is writing a message to Congress in favor of the immediate acceptance of the Lecompton constitution by Congress, and makes it a party test, declaring that every one who does not support the recommendation is a traitor to Democracy.

It is believed that the Senate will sustain the President's views, but that the House will not. Mr. Stanton, of Tenn., late Secretary of Kansas, has just arrived here, and warns Congress against persisting in the Lecompton fraud.

The other New York papers contain similar advices from Washington. It does seem incredible, that in the face and eyes of the monstrous and admitted frauds perpetrated by the Border Ruffians in Kansas, and the indisputable fact that at least three-fourths of the People of the Territory are opposed to the Lecompton Constitution, the Administration should still persist in attempting to force this infamous and branded cheat through Congress. We do not believe that the desperate attempt will succeed; but if it does civil war must be the issue; for the Free State men in Kansas are pledged, in that event, to resist to the death.

At a meeting in Lawrence, on the 14th inst., General JIM LANE, who is the terror of the Border Ruffians, made a strong speech, in which, alluding to the possible success of the Lecompton Swindle, he thus hinted at the future course of the Free State men:

I will say that we don't design to go into rebellion just yet. But we do propose to get the old ship ready—frame a code of laws by the Topeka Government—to organize townships and counties under it—to have everything ready for starting at a moment's notice. And then, if the Lecompton Constitution shall pass Congress, we expect Gov. Charles Robinson to issue his proclamation as Chief Executive of the State of Kansas—we expect to unmoor the old ship and let her go. (Tremendous applause.) I don't see rebellion in that, but I do see consistency and manhood. If it is rebellion for us to insist on our right to live under our own government—a government born of the popular will, baptized in the blood of our martyrs and indorsed by the peoples' votes, then we are ready for it. (Applause.)

It is of the most importance that both Legislatures (Topeka and Territorial) should act together—should act harmoniously—that we may present an unbroken front to the enemy. The simple fact that in the Territorial Legislature half the counties of the Territory are disfranchised, is sufficient reason that it should do nothing but repeal the bogus code, or else should legislate in concert with the Topeka Legislature, which represents fairly every locality. Let us be ready, then, to put the people's government in motion; let us prepare the vessel, trim the sails, and soon Kansas will be safely and triumphantly moored in the harbor of Freedom! (Applause.)

Those are undoubtedly the prevailing sentiments among the Free State men in Kansas, and having forborne till the last, they will undoubtedly—if Congress sanctions the Lecompton Swindle—organize a State Government under the Topeka Constitution, hoist their State flag, and, in the significant language of LANE, "let her go!" If they do, we do not believe that all the "Border Ruffians" in Kansas, or all their "National Democratic" sympathizers out of it, can "stop her."

An Alarming Rumor.

Some imprudent letter writer at the Federal Capitol, has given currency to the rumor that the President was about to recall one of our Ministers, now abroad, on the ground "that he is not qualified for the duties of the place." The report has excited general consternation among the American Diplomats abroad, and their friends at home—and well it may. For, as the N. Y. Times pertinently asks—

If the President recalls one Minister on the ground of incompetency, where, in the name of the American Eagle, is he to stop? If he has laid down any such rule as this, that unfit and unqualified persons are not to fill these foreign Missions, what is to become of the party,—to say nothing of the country? Where does he find, in our recent history, any precedent for such a sweeping regulation? What is to be done with those enterprising gentlemen who have been earning Missions, Chargeships, Consulships, and the right of representing and disgracing their country in foreign parts, by regulating caucuses, manipulating Conventions, and buying voters with lavish patriotism for the past ten years?

We have no idea that President BUCHANAN contemplates any such "slaughter of the Innocents;" unless, indeed, the sacrifice be necessary to carry the Lecompton Swindle through Congress. We rather incline to the belief that the story is a wicked invention of the enemy; and started, for mischievous purposes, either by some irreverent Black Republican, or some discontented Democrat. But the Union should lose no time in meeting the rumor with an official contradiction. Otherwise it will continue to trouble the thoughts, discolor the dreams, and spoil the digestion, of our Ministers, Charges, and Consuls, in foreign parts, for months to come. They ought not to be subjected to any such lingering tortures.

DETROIT AND MILWAUKEE RAILWAY.—The Detroit Daily Advertiser says of this road, now so near completion:

The value of this line to Detroit—to Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, cannot be estimated. It has already added many millions to the taxable property of the State, over and above the cost of the Road. It is a Railway which will more than any other develop the hidden and undeveloped resources of our own State. The coal fields of Shiawassee, and the Gypsum Beds of Kent, are mines of wealth which will furnish for all time an unfailing traffic for this line. The through traffic from Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, we have no doubt will vastly exceed the estimates made, but important as this may be, we believe the day is not distant when the country adjacent to, and tributary to this line, will furnish an amount of traffic which will richly compensate the men who have invested their capital in this Railway.

JUDGE JEWETT.—The Auburn Advertiser learns that Judge Jewett, of Skaneateles, received a severe shock of paralysis, on the evening of the 22d of January, which completely paralyzed one side. He was not expected to live, and his friends and relatives have been telegraphed for. Judge Jewett is an ex-Judge of the N. Y. Court of Appeals, and has been one of the most prominent citizens of Skaneateles for many years.

Pacific Railroad Explorations.

From the N. Y. Tribune.

The late Secretary of War, Mr. Jefferson Davis, undertook the expenditure of the money appropriated by Congress for the survey of the various Pacific Railroad routes. The audacious favoritism displayed by Mr. Davis, in partially epleted by Mr. Billinghurst of Wisconsin, in the following extract which we take from his speech of Thursday last:

Mr. Chairman: The late Secretary of War, in reporting to this House upon Governor Stevens' explorations, says that these explorations show that the uncultivable region on the [Nothern] route, as in that of the Arkansas, begins with the ninety-ninth meridian. That point, Sir, is about ninety miles west of Minnesota; thence to the Pacific, he deduces, from these explorations, that the country is one of general sterility, with some exceptions in the mountain valleys. He also reports that the sum of the areas of cultivable soil in the Rocky Mountain region does not exceed, if it equals, one thousand square miles. Gov. Stevens reports ten thousand square miles of arable, tillable land, already prepared for occupation and settlement, in the mountain range between Fort Benton and the Bitter Root range of mountains. And, Sir, as I read his reports and the reports of his officers, I do not understand that there is any land between Fort Benton and the ninety-ninth meridian that deserves the term arid or sterile; but I do understand from his explorations that nearly this entire couteau is capable of sustaining an agricultural population. It is the grazing ground for the buffalo; and Sir, they do not seek their pasturage in arid and sterile places. More careful and extended explorations by Governor Stevens have satisfied him that his estimate of 10,000 square miles was an under-estimate. In addition to this area of farming land, the Governor says there is a tract of land between the Peluse River and the Bitter Root Mountains, in extent equal to the State of Connecticut, of as rich land as the former ever put plow into. The Governor's estimate of cost of road was also materially increased by the War Department.

One cannot read the first volume of the Pacific Railroad Surveys without concluding that the War Department has unfairly and unjustly dealt with the labors of Gov. Stevens and his party.—Here is presented this remarkable spectacle of a Department of the Government detailing its own officers to conduct explorations, the object of which was to obtain information of unknown and unexplored regions, and then deliberately attempting to discredit before Congress and the country the results obtained, by substituting its own judgement in opposition to ascertained facts. It looks very much as if the War Department had determined in advance, irrespective of the results to be obtained by the surveys and explorations that this northern route should not be encouraged. Three hundred and forty thousand dollars have been appropriated directly for explorations of railroad routes to the Pacific. Only $56,000 of this had been devoted to the Northern line, when the War Department stopped further work there, by refusing pay. The balance of these explorations has been expended South. The $100,000 or $200,000 for Artesian wells, without water on the Southern line, is to be added, besides the $10,000,000 for the Gadsden purchase, which was bought for a railroad track. The explorations are to make eight large quarto volumes. The number of volumes published, and to be published, is about 112,000, at a cost to the Government of about $500,000.—The first volume is devoted to the Northern route; the other seven to the Central and Southern. The first volume is without illustration of any kind; does not even contain the report of the geologist attached to Governor Stevens' party, which, as I am informed, the late Secretary of War refused to publish for want of means.—Of the remaining seven volumes four are already published, and are most beautifully illustrated, presenting a complete panorama of the natural scenery, of the geology, botany, zoology, ornithology, and everything else that could adorn and help to make the books a center-table ornament; and it is to be presumed that the three volumes yet to come are to be of similar character.

Assuming that one-eighth of the cost of publication is to be charged to the Northern route, it then turns out that out of $11,000,000 expended to find a railroad track to the Pacific, $125,000 is to be put to the account of the Northern route. But this is not the end of these explorations. I am informed that in the present year Lieut. Ives is exploring the Colorado at the expense of this railroad fund. On the 6th June, 1853, Gov. Stevens and his party started their explorations from St. Paul. Not reaching the mountain districts until cold weather had set in, the explorations were vigorously carried on by his efficient aids, Capt. McClellan, Lieutenant Donelson, Mr. Tinckham, Mr. Lander, Lieutenant Mullen, Mr. James Doty, and Lieut. Grover, through the entire winter season, in an uninhabited region. Of course their labors were attended with great difficulties, and the results obtained were meagre, compared with the extensive operations before them. The Governor had made every preparation for an extensive and thorough summer reconnoissance, and had made his estimates accordingly, and reported preparations to the War Department, asking the co-operation of that Department; when just as the season of operations was opening, on the 13th April, 1854, the Secretary of War stops the supplies—says he will estimate for arrearages, but says nothing of future operations, although well advised how little opportunity had been afforded the party of fulfilling the intentions of Congress. Notwithstanding Congress appropriated $150,000, August 5, 1854, for continuing the explorations, no orders were sent to Governor Stevens to resume labors.

A NOVEL PROJECT.—We find, in the market article of the N. Y. Tribune of January 26th, the following notable device for transferring from the shoulders of the various cities, towns and counties of our State, to those of the State itself, the debts incurred by the loans of corporate credit, in aid of different Rail Road enterprises. The project has not yet been aired in this State, and it talked of at all it must have been done in a corner:

A movement is in embryo in the State of Wisconsin having for its object the relief of the various counties, cities and towns from the very oppressive burden of debt which they have incurred in rendering assistance to railways in that young but flourishing State. The plan is to obtain the passage of a bill by the Legislature now in session, authorizing the State to assume these loans, and to consolidate them by exchanging therefor 6 per cent State stock at par value, at the same time making provision by a moderate tax upon the income of the railways aided for a sinking fund, which shall eventually extinguish the entire debt in its accumulation. As a preliminary measure, it will be necessary to amend the Constitution, which now limits the amount of State debt to $100,000; and this amendment it is proposed to submit to a vote of the people as soon as the Legislature makes the necessary provision therefor. If the result is in favor of the amendment, an extra session of the Legislature may be called, in order to complete the movement as speedily as possible. The total amount of loans of this character now outstanding is not far from five millions of dollars, at rates of interest varying from 7 to 8 per cent, and there is hardly a city in the State, of any importance, which has not loaned its credit to aid the prominent lines of road, either completed or in process of construction. Among them are included the cities of Milwaukee for $1,500,000; Watertown; $400,000; Racine, $300,000; Kenosha, $200,000; Oshkosh, $175,000; Fond du Lac, $160,000; Sheboygan, $150,000; Madison, $100,000; Beloit $50,000; and the towns of Jefferson for $50,000; Koshkonong, $50,000; Columbus, $30,000, &c. The improvements for which these debts have been contracted have developed the State of Wisconsin to an extent which could not have been accomplished in any other way in so brief a space of time. They have opened her markets to the rapidly growing trade of Minnesota and Iowa, and have given access to the valuable pineries of the North.—The advantages have not only been immense but they have accrued to the whole State, diffusing throughout its length and breadth the fresh and vigorous life-current of enterprise and trade.

BANK CIRCULATION AND DEPOSITS.—Notwithstanding all that has been said recently about an inflated currency, Bank expansions and the like, it is a remarkable fact that the amount of paper money now in circulation, issued by the banks in the State of New York, is actually less than it was twenty years ago. The comparative figures are thus given by the Albany Evening Journal.

January 1, 1837—Circulation,		$24,198,000
Dec. 26, 1857—	do	23,899,964
Decrease,		$298,036

The amount due depositors and the amount of specie show an increase, equally illustrating the soundness and wealth of the State:

January 1, 1837—Due depositors,		$19,342,000
Dec. 26, 1857—	do	79,980,586
Increase,		$60,638,586
SPECIE.
January 1, 1837—Specie in Banks,		$ 6,557,000
Dec. 26, 1857—	do	29,313,421
Increase,		$22,767,421

POSTMASTER JONES VINDICATED.—The report of the Assembly Committee, appointed to investigate the manner in which postage is charged on printed matter, at the post office in this city, reported this morning, fully exculpating Postmaster Jones from the suspicion of having made any overcharges on such mail matter.—Madison Journal.

Interesting Information from the Utah Expedition.

COL. COOK'S REPORT.

CAMP SCOTT, U. T. Nov. 29, 1857.

DEAR MAJOR:—I left you on Black's Fork, 16 miles from Fort Bridger, on the 7th instant, after one day's march from the point of uniting the commands by Col. Johnston. You now find us in this camp, named in honor of our cherished chief, whose forethought and action has placed us in winter quarters, under excellent shelter, without the blow of an axe. Our first day's march was over a dreary waste, made more desolate by the fall of snow two days previous, and the driving storm of snow and wind which met us in the middle of the march, miles from wood, water, grass, or shelter. To return was destruction; to advance was, apparently to court it. The number of animals was insufficient to move either our mule or contractor's trains. Still we struggled on, losing strength hourly by the destruction of our animals; on the evening of the 8th we prepared for the contest again. On the morning of the 9th a portion struck camp and advanced to the next place of shelter; there, while waiting the arrival of the rear, to have our animals struck down by cold, hunger and thirst. The rear (5th infantry) could not make a march of five miles in a day to overtake us without leaving the supplies behind.

Without sustenance for animals almost starved before we joined the main body, almost without fuel, that regiment, and the trains it escorted, passed the day travelling against one of the most severe storms of snow and wind I have experienced for many years, and camped in a dreary spot, open to the full blast of the storm, with the thermometer at 5° below zero at 6 A. M. where we were under shelter of bluffs. The orders will show our march. It was one magnificent struggle from the begining to this place. One more day's march and our meat ration—beef, horse and mule—would have been diminutively small for the Winter. The last company of the 10th infantry, escorting the last of the supply-trains to Fort Bridger, reached this camp at 10 P. M. on the 22d; thus requiring six days to move our little army and its supplies less than six miles.—In its limb the giant's strength was expended; but the will which moved this force, and the spirits which gave this will vitality, were brighter and stronger as the obstitution became weaker; and if he had said "On," on we would have gone feeling that what he would direct would be right.

The assurances you gave me of confidence in my commander have been more than realized, and he now has, I believe, the unbounded confidence of the Army. You will see from his letters and orders how he grappled with the difficulties in his path, and I hope the Spring will see him the conqueror. This little army is in fine health and spirits. The men have borne their trials without a murmur—duty is severe upon officers and men; but not a word of complaint have I heard. We have all endured alike and the fact that Col. Johnson has led the march "footed it," as did the men, suffers the same exposure, and will not permit the officer to receive more than the soldier, has endeared him to all. We are now in camp, nicely housed; the most of us in well tents; the men all in "Sibley tents." The latter save the necessity of huts, and are the only suitable tents for the men. The wall tent, with a stove, is the only one for an officer. The tents furnished (Sibley tents) are very inferior, especially those made by the quarter master, inferior in material and make, and small and unequal in size. One tent is allowed eighteen men now, but in a few days they will be issued at one to sixteen; even that would be insufficient were not the men on guard or other duty. Our animals are all absent, except those needed for police purposes and for immediate consumption.

This place (Fort Bridger) is admirably located, timber abundant and close by for fuel and building purposes; grass can be cut within 200 yards of the garrison; water at the door; and it commands every road leading into the country. The Mormons burned the buildings of this place and Fort Supply; at the latter they piled up their grain and set fire to it; left their potatoes, turnips, &c., in the ground. The walls of Fort Bridger are standing; they were built for defence last fall, and are 6 feet through at the base 4 at the top, 16 feet high, and 100 by 110 on one part, 100 by 75 on another. They tried to fire the grass, but snow fell and extinguished it. The snow was our salvation. When the grass was burned the flames scorched the trees 60 feet high. Had the command advanced sooner than it did the animals would have starved, and the army could not have found or reached a place of shelter.

Our grass is eaten up for the three miles around us; but we have animals on Smith's Fork, (three miles off,) and there is grass enough for the whole bind; but no shelter; and insufficient wood.—This valley is warm, wooded and watered; and welcomed us. Our legs are untied, or just getting so; and when spring comes a more devastating swarm of grasshoppers will never have swept that valley of Salt Lake than will this army be, if our progress is molested. This people design our starvation, our destruction; and there is no device man can resort to which they will not practice—from assassination, murder, fire and flood. The robbers and assassins will scatter and form bands of guerillas, and no party, no train, no band of cattle, will pass to the valley if they can murder burn, or run off. The Mormons have great fear of mounted men; and had not Col. Johnston brought up the two companies of the 2d from Laramie, (companies which were to be called to Kearney, and which directions have been given to prepare for at K.,) from the negligence of the guards and the watchfulness of the Mormons, we would now be struggling by hand to get here, and without meat.—Had the 2d dragoons been sent at the time directed—telegraphed—not an animal would have been lost by theft. The army could not, however, have entered the valley without leaving its supplies behind. The Mormons are a set of cowards, like all assassins and bullies; and I fear their leaders, and those who have no claims in the valley, will run away, requiring their deluded followers to destroy their property lest it might benefit us. The leaders rely on such conduct as pursued by Congress in the Kansas question. I hope Congress will declare the Territory in rebellion, and call upon all Governors and commanding officers to arrest and keep in custody all persons leaving the Territory, and especially the leaders, unless accompanied by a safeguard or passport.—New York Times.

THE LA CROSSE AND MILWAUKEE R. R.—The New York Express of Tuesday, alluding to the steady progress of the La Crosse & Milwaukee Rail Road North Westwardly, says:

As soon as the rails reach the Mississippi by this extensive route, Milwaukee must naturally receive a very large accession of business from Minnesota. Whenever the La Crosse road is able to touch the river, its earnings will equal those of the Galena and Chicago and the Rock Island, in their earlier days, if not exceed them.

The completion of the Detroit & Milwaukee R. R. to Lake Michigan and the extension of the La Crosse and Milwaukee R. R. to the Mississippi, will bring our City into line, and make it the receiving and distributing point of a vast and annually increasing trade and travel. The means of completing the D. & M. R. R. are already provided, and that road will be open to Lake Michigan early next summer. As to the La Crosse road, there is every reason to hope that another twelvemonth will see it finished to the Mississippi. Only about sixty miles remain to be built.

A LOCOMOTIVE TOWING A VESSEL.—This rather unusual spectacle was exhibited in our harbor last week. A schooner was passing through the draw of the Lowell rail road bridge, when, unfortunately, a strong wind and tide which prevailed threatened to speedily take the vessel from her place of destination. At that moment a locomotive passed along the rail road bridge, the engineer of which, upon perceiving the dilemma of the worthy captain, called out to those on board to pass him a rope, which he made fast to the engine, and, with a few puffs of the powerful machine, soon placed the vessel alongside a neighboring wharf, to which she was made fast in safety.—Boston Traveler.

CRUEL TREATMENT OF A CHILD.—Moses H Beste and his wife, of Williamsburg, Massachusetts, have been arrested on the charge of cruel treatment of their child, a boy five years old.—The alleged cruel treatment consisted in severe whipping, exposure during severe weather and deprivation of food, extending over a period of some six months. Four witnesses testified to having seen the father whip the child with great severity so long ago as July last, two of whom swore to having counted at that time fifty, and at another twenty distinct blows with a piece of board a foot and a half long.

THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.—This department is now busily engaged in receiving interest on school lands, and other matters connected with it. Everything looks in excellent order, and the new incumbent is becoming very popular.—The force under Mr. Hastings consists of the following named persons:

F. A. Schoffield, Assistant Treasurer.
C. B. Holden, Book-Keeper.
O. G. Schofield, Receiving Clerk.
J. A. Bates, Corresponding Clerk.
Chas. H. King, Messenger.

This is an efficient force. All are competent men. Mr. F. A. Schoffield, has had experience in the office, he being the individual who was decapitated from the position of clerkship last fall by Mr. Keubu, because he happened to be a Republican.—Madison Journal.

THE QUEEN AND THE LETTER A.—We have made a discovery. The wonder is, in this age of newspaper paragraphs, that it was never made before, but was reserved for the Gateshead Observer of 1857. Byron had "a passion for the name of Mary," and our gracious Queen has a passion for the letter A. Here is the proof:

Alexandrina Victoria Queen
Albert, Prince Consort.
Adelaide, Princess Royal
Albert, Prince of Wales.
Alice, second daughter.
Alfred, second son.
Augusta, third daughter.
Alberta, fourth daughter.
Arthur, third son.
Albert Fourth son.
Beatrice, fifth daughter.

Every son and daughter of the Queen, born before the present year, has one name, at the least beginning with the letter A; and some of them more. Her Majesty evidently thinks her family to be a 1, and a trifle beyond—a right good motherly feeling, in palice or cot. In April, when the last was born, A being exhausted, her Majesty moved on to B.—English Paper.

☞ We extract the following from the Paris correspondence of the "Courier des Etats Unis," dated Augsburg, Dec. 28:—"A general alarm prevails here; for some time past an individual has attacked the young girls of our city, and cut off their flowing locks of hair. He commenced at night, under favor of the darkness, but lately has operated in open day. His first operation is to put under the nostrils of the girl he meets a small bottle containing a substance which causes a stupor, and then the long tresses are quickly removed. It is said that other persons coming up at the same time are forced to fly by having a pistol presented at them. It has been impossible up to this time, to seize the miscreant, or even to get his exact description. Many persons have been arrested, but they proved entirely innocent. The magistrate has offered a reward for his detection. Ladies are fearful of going out unless accompanied by a protective. The police are on the look-out, and constantly patrol the streets, yet new outrages are daily taking place."—N. Y. Mirror.

A COMMON FAULT REBUKED.—How annoying it is, when seated alone in your office, to have some one open the door, look all around the room to be satisfied that you are its only occupant, and then ask, "Mr.——(your partner, perhaps) is out in, is he?" The question is as common as it is ridiculous and annoying. The Buffalo Express instances a case in that city, where one of these askers of needless questions was effectually taken down. A member of a law firm in that city is sitting at his desk busily engaged in important business, when the door opens—Mr. Auger walks in, takes his seat, and says, in a drawling tone, "Mr.——isn't in, is he?" The question was useless, of course, as there was no one in the room but the two; but the counsellor arose, and with great urbanity replied, "I will see, sir." He looked under his chair, behind the stove, into the "pigeon holes" of his desk, and saying, "I don't see him," sat down and went to writing.

"Hold on, Squire," said the visitor, "you have taught me a lesson, sir, and I'll send you a peck of apples,"—and departed.

One mile and a half from the Spring Street Bridge.

We have laid off the balance of our origin al purchase on Spring street into lots, and now offer them on the very terms heretofore, viz: On each hundred dollars of purchase money fee dollars in advance, and three dollars per month thereafter with ten per cent INTEREST. The lots are beautifully situated on high ground in a healthful locality, and embraces some of the finest views about the city. They will bear examination.

The very low price at which they will be sold, together with the terms, commend them to the attention of all classes in search a home and exemption from rents.—Young men, mechanics and laboring men, and tradesmen of small means have here an opportunity to invest that is within their reach. We have an agent on the property every day, after 2 P. M., to show the lots.

The Spectre Text.

BY A. DARLEY HALL.

"Hanged by the neck till you be dead!"
This law holds fast to murderers' lives
To one whose hand with blood was red.

The felon staggered from the dock,
And glanced toward the court-room clock,
Whose minutes seemed his hours to mock.

Upon his wrists they clasped the gyves—
(The law holds fast to murderers' lives
From sentence-time till doom arrives!)

He passed an instant at the street,
The sunshine once again to greet,
—Life's sunshine, henceforth doubly sweet!

—Life's sunshine, valued because such!
Then, summoned by the jailor's touch,
His foot the pavement scarce touched to clutch.

Though but a stripling, said that crowd,
Like an old man's his form was bowed,
The youth found vent—he wept aloud.

As said the thronging mass he sobbed,
All pulses sympathetic throbbed,
Forgetting now the life he robbed!

The sheriff's man, who jailward led,
Felt as if following the dead,
And moved along with noiseless tread.

Beside the prison's frowning gate
He passed the threshold of his fate,
And parted with his human hate.

Some keeper by the door-way saith,
"One moment pause to ease his breath,"
Then whispered, "it belongs to Death!"

As the cell door to swing began,
A shudder through his body ran—
'Twas opened by the murdered man!

The spectre victim's ghastly grin
Welcomed the felon convict in—
Ah! now, at last, he felt his sin.

No eye but his that spectre saw
The grating cell-bolts slowly draw;
Barbing the vengeance of the law!

The felon stood at Murder's throne,
He felt that murder claimed its own!
—He ne'er again was left alone!

For constantly that spectre said
"Hanged by the neck till you be dead!"
Until his brain seemed crowned with lead.

And constantly fresh blood was shed
Beneath his feet—upon his head—
Waking—or dreaming in his bed!

Vainly by day or night he plead;
Above the jailor's sentry-tread
Still came the words of legal dread.

The very fare whereon he fed,
Even the water and the bread,
Sickened him with dye of red.

To eye and ear came never peace,
Nor did the spectral vengeance cease
Till the grim scaffold gave release!

Ever for deeds by crime perpetred,
Remorse will find some spectred text,
Either in this world or the next.

A FRENCH WILL STORY.

"Is she dead, then?"

"Yes, madam," replied a little gentleman in brown coat and short breeches.

"And her will?"

"Is going to be opened here immediately by her solicitor."

"Shall we inherit anything?"

"It must be supposed so; we have claims."

"Who is that miserably dressed personage who intrudes herself here?"

"Oh, she," said the little man, sneering—"she won't have much in the will: she is sister to the deceased."

"What, that Anne who wedded in 1812 a man of nothing—an officer."

"Precisely so."

"She must have no small amount of impudence to present herself here, before a respectable family.

"The more so as Sister Egerie, of noble birth, had never forgiven her that mesalliance."

Anne moved at this time across the room in which the family of the deceased were assembled. She was pale; her fine eyes were filled with tears, and her face was furrowed by care with precious wrinkles.

"What, who, you, come here for?" said, with great haughtiness, Madame de Villeboys, the lady who, a moment before, had been interrogating the little man who inherited with her.

"Madam," the poor lady replied, with humility. "I do not come here to claim a part of what does not belong to me; I come solely to see M. Dubois, my poor sister's solicitor, to inquire if she spoke of me at her last hour."

"What! do you think people busy themselves about you?" arrogantly observed Madame de Villeboys; "the disgrace of a great house—you, who wedded a man of nothing, a soldier of Bonaparte's!"

"Madam, my husband, although a child of the people, was a brave soldier, and, what is better, an honest man," observed Anne.

At this moment a venerable personage, the notary Dubois, made his appearance.

"Cease," he said, "to reproach Anne with a union which her sister has forgiven her. Anne loved a generous, brave, and good man, who had no other crimes to reproach himself with than his poverty, and the obscurity of his name. Nevertheless, had he lived, it his family had known him as I know him, I, his old friend, Anne would be at this time happy and respected."

"But why is this woman here?".

"Because it is her place to be here," said the notary, gravely; "I myself requested her to attend here."

M. Dubios then proceeded to open the will:

"I being sound in mind and heart, Egerie de Damfremiog, retired as a boarder in the convent of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, dictate the following wishes as the expression of my formal desire and principal clause of my testament.

"After my decease there will be found two hundred thousand francs in money at my notary's besides jewelry, clothes, and furniture, as also a chateau worth two hundred thousand francs.

"In the convent where I have been residing, there will only be found my book, "Heures de la Vierge;" holy volume, which remains as it was when I took it with me at the time of the emigration. I desire that these three objects be divided into three lots.

"The first lot, the two hundred thousand francs in money."

"The second lot, the chateau, furniture, and jewels.

"The third lot, my book, "Heures de la Vierge."

"I have pardoned my sister Anne the grief which she has caused to us, and I would have comforted her in her sorrows if I had known sooner of her return to France. I comprise her in my will.

"Madame de Villeboys, my much beloved cousin shall have the first choice.

"M. Vatry, my brother-in-law, shall have the second choice.

"Anne will take the remaining lot."

"Ah! ah!" said Vatry, "Sister Egerie was a good one; that is rather clever on her part!"

"Anne willfully have the Prayer-book!" exclaimed Madame de Villeboys, laughing aloud. The notary interrupted her jocularity.

"Madame," he said, "which lot do you choose.

"The two hundred thousand francs in money."

"Have you quite made up your mind?"

"Perfectly so."

The man of law, addressing himself then to the good, feeling of the lady, said, "Madame, you are rich, and Anne has nothing. Could you not leave her this lot, and take the book of prayers, which the eccentricity of the deceased has placed on a par with the other lots."

"You must be joking, M. Dubois!" exclaimed Madame de Villeboys; "you must really by very dull not to see the intention of Sister Egerie in all this. Our honored cousin foresaw full well that her book of prayers would fall to the lot of Anne, who had the last choice.

"And what do you conclude from that?" inquired the notary.

"I conclude that she meant to intimate to her sister that repentance and prayer were the only help that she had to expect in this world.

As she finished these words, Madame de Villeboys made a definite selection of the ready money for her share. Monsieur Vatry, as may be easily imagined, selected the chateau, furniture, and jewels, as his lot.

"Monsieur Vatry," said M. Dubois to that gentleman, "even suppose it had been the intention of the deceased to punish her sister, it would be noble on your part, millionaire as you are, to give up at least a portion of your share to Anne, who wants it so much."

"Thanks for your kind advice, dear sir," replied Vatry; "the mansion is situated on the very confines of my woods, and suits me admirably, all the more so that it is ready furnished. As to the jewels of Sister Egerie, they are reminiscences which one ought never to part with."

"Since it is so," said the notary, "my poor Madame Anne, here is the Prayer-book that remains to you."

Anne, stranded by her son, a handsome boy with blue eyes, took her sister's old Prayer-book, and making her son kiss it after her, she said:

"Hector, kiss this book which belonged to your poor aunt, who is dead, but who would have loved you well had she known you. When you have learned to read you will pray to Heaven to make you wise and good as your father was, and happier than your unfortunate mother."

The eyes of those who were present were filled with tears, notwithstanding their efforts to preserve an appearance of indifference.

The child embraced the old book with boyish fervor, and opening it afterward—

"O! mamma," he said, "what pretty pictures!"

"Indeed!" said the mother, happy in the gladness of her boy.

"Yes. The good Virgin, in a red dress, holding the infant Jesus in her arms. But why, mamma, has silk paper been put upon the pictures?"

"So that they might not be injured, my dear."

"But, mamma, why are there ten silk papers to each engraving?"

The mother looked, and uttering a sudden shriek, she fell into the arms of M. Dubois, the notary, who, addressing those present, said:

"Leave her alone, it won't be much; people don't die of these shocks." As for you, little one, addressing Hector, "give me that prayer-book, you will hear the engravings."

The inheritors withdrew, making various conjectures as to the cause of Anne's sudden illness, and the interest which the notary took in her. Although afterward they met Anne and her son, exceedingly well, yes not extravagantly dressed, taking and giving the two-horse chaise—this led them to make inquiries, and they ascertained that Madame Anne had recently purchased a hotel for one hundred and eighty thousand francs, and that she was giving a first-rate education to her son. The news came like a thunderbolt upon them. Madame de Villeboys and M. de Vatry listened to call upon the notary to ask for explanations. The good Dubious was working at his desk.

"Perhaps we are disturbing you?" said the arrogant old lady.

"No matter. I was in the act of settling a purchase in the state funds for Madame Anne."

"What!" exclaimed Vatry, "after purchasing house and equipages, she has still money to invest."

"Undoubtedly so."

"But where did the money come from?"

"What!" did you not see."

"When?"

"When she shrieked upon seeing what the prayer-book contained which she inherited."

"We observed nothing."

"Oh! I thought that you saw it," said the sarcastic notary. "That prayer-book contained sixty engravings, and each engraving was covered by ten notes of a thousand francs each."

"Good Heavens!" exclaimed Vatry, thunderstruck.

"If I had only known it!" shouted Madame de Villeboys.

"You had the choice," added the notary, "and I myself urged you to take the prayer-book, but you refused."

"But who could have expected to find a fortune in a breviary."

The two baffled old egotists withdrew, their hearts swollen with passionate envy.

Madame Anne is still in Paris. If you pass by the Rue Laffite on a fine Summer evening, you will see a charming picture on the first floor, illuminated by the pale reflection of wax lights.

A lady who has joined the two hands of her son, a fair child of six years of age, in prayer before an old book of "Heures de la Vierge," and for which a case in gold has been made.

"Pray for me, child," said the mother.

"And for who else," inquired the child.

"For your father, your dear father, who perished without knowing you, without being able to love you."

"Must I pray to the saint, my patron?"

"Yes, my little friend; but do not forget a saint who watches us from heaven, and who smiles upon us from above the clouds."

"What is the name of that Saint, mamma?"

The mother, then watering the fair child's head with her tears, answered:—

"Her name is Sister Egerie."

LESSONS IN Foreign Languages.
MR. AND MRS. L. S. B. DE CRETY, from Paris, for four years past instructors in foreign languages in Milwaukee, have the honor to inform the public that they will form classes in the French, Italian and Spanish Languages on the 1st of September next. The course of instruction will be according to the age and intelligence of the pupils, and the classes kept entirely separate, their healing engaged with that view.
Gentlemen and ladies who begin to speak either of these languages, can receive lessons in Reading and Conversation, Mr. De Crety furnishing books of the best French authors. Those too wishing to learn vocal music in either of those languages, will find a competent music teacher in the establishment.
The hours of instruction will be from 8 to 11 o'clock A. M., and from 3 to 5 P. M. And in the evening from half past 6 to 8, for conversation.
Mr. DE CRETY will also give lessons in French, Spanish and Italian, at his office, to gentlemen only, from 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening, as also lessons in Fencing, the use of the Sword, and all military exercises. Persons of delicate constitution and feeble temperament, as also those confined to their offices and engaged in sedentary pursuits, will derive from these exercises, improvement in their health, acquire strength in their limbs and find an agreeable recreation.
Mr. De Crety will also form similar classes for children, from 10 to 15 years old, at his house, or office, as parents may prefer. Fathers and mothers who desire to see their children strong, active and robust, can judge for themselves, after a few weeks' trial, as to the effect of these different exercises upon their health.
The continued patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TO MERCHANTS.—Mr. DE CRETY will take charge of French correspondence to all the principal cities of France and will procure all Price Currents that they may want.
